Burton-Kromen memo 12/5/67

Surprised none of them ever thought Kromen might have been part of "The Plot", having interviewed, as he told Burton, one of the three Grassy-Knoll men on tape. At that point he should have had no more serious interest in Kromen. And he wants to "peg" O as a Russian agent also?

There is no page numbered 3. Where is Jaffe's Kromen memo in this file?

The Marcus application of what he calls logic is typical. It would apply to any situation as neatly as it does to this.

There are but four pages prior to the point where he says he had done 6.

The last footnote is a separate and total disqualification, yet these people continued to take Kromen seriously. It also reveals they were engaged in trying to persuade him or give him information rather than getting what he may have had.

More nonsense. The same question, what has Jaffe given Fred?
